1. Owner Insurance

Renter acknowledges that Owner may maintain commercial auto insurance on the Vehicle. However, Renter understands and agrees that:

- Owner's insurance is subject to coverage limits, exclusions, and conditions that may result in claims being denied or only partially covered.
- Owner's insurance does NOT cover Renter as a named insured and does not replace Renter's personal insurance obligations.
- Owner's insurance may not cover accidents occurring during gig platform delivery activities — coverage varies by platform and policy.
- Renter remains personally responsible for any deductible, uninsured loss, or excluded claim.

2. Renter's Insurance Responsibility

Renter acknowledges that:

- Renter is strongly encouraged to obtain a non-owners auto insurance policy or rideshare/delivery driver endorsement prior to operating the Vehicle.
- Gig platforms such as DoorDash, Uber Eats, Instacart, Amazon Flex, and similar services may provide limited liability coverage during active delivery periods only — this coverage does not extend to all driving.
- Renter is solely responsible for any gaps in coverage.
- Owner makes no representation or guarantee that any specific insurance coverage will apply to any claim.

3. Damage Responsibility

Renter acknowledges and agrees that the insurance maintained by Owner, if any, does not limit, reduce, or eliminate Renter's obligations under the Master Vehicle Rental Agreement.

Renter remains fully and personally responsible for all deductibles, uninsured losses, underinsured losses, excluded losses, diminished value, loss-of-use damages, administrative expenses, claim handling expenses, towing charges, storage charges, impound fees, recovery costs, attorney's fees where permitted by law, and any other damages, losses, costs, or expenses arising from Renter's operation, possession, custody, or control of the Vehicle.

Renter further acknowledges that Owner's decision to submit or not submit an insurance claim shall not affect Renter's financial obligations under the Master Vehicle Rental Agreement.

4. Prohibited Uses Affecting Coverage

Renter understands that the following uses may void or limit insurance coverage entirely:

- Operation by an unauthorized driver
- Operation while under the influence of alcohol or controlled substances
- Use of the Vehicle for rideshare passenger transport without prior written consent
- Use of the Vehicle for racing, stunts, or reckless driving
- Any criminal use of the Vehicle

5. Acknowledgment

By signing below, Renter confirms that they have read and understood the insurance limitations described above and acknowledge that they remain personally and financially responsible for all obligations, damages, losses, deductibles, costs, expenses, and liabilities allocated to Renter under the Master Vehicle Rental Agreement, regardless of whether any insurance coverage applies.

6. No Reliance

Renter acknowledges that Owner has not provided any insurance advice, legal advice, or representation regarding the existence, scope, availability, adequacy, or applicability of any insurance coverage. Renter has independently determined whether additional insurance coverage is necessary and is not relying upon any statement or representation by Owner regarding insurance coverage.
